

Serio-Comedy At Depot Cat Cause Of Trouble Woman Kisses Feline

A riot in three acts.
Scenes—Railroad station—first section and second sections of a west-bound train.
Characters—One valuable Maltese cat; a lady of some forty summers and the depot master.
Upon arrival in Ogden yesterday Mrs. J. Fred Houser, en route to the Democratic convention at San Francisco, stirred up a riot for fair at the Union Depot and caused on Alma T. Flinders, passenger-director much grief.
It happened thus: Train 19 on arrival carried the cat in the baggage car while the owner occupied a seat in the Pullman on the rear section of the car. Arriving in Ogden the party was split up, or rather divided, the cat departing on the first section of train 19 and Mrs. Houser on the second section.
After purchasing "cats" for the pretty cat, Mrs. Houser immediately proceeded toward the baggage car to give the cat a "square" meal. On scanning over the cars she finally came to the realization that the car was missing.
Leaving the exterior of the depot she rushed to the interior, her eyes popping, and immediately launched a verbal barrage at Passenger Director Flinders.
"Where's my cat, where's my cat, you've lost her, you've lost her!" shouted Mrs. Houser.
"W-h-h-h-a-a-t! W-h-a-t are you talking about?" answered Flinders.
"My cat, my cat, she will starve, on what shall I do, what shall I do," she shouted.
By this time the depot was crowded with onlookers eager to witness the confab and to hear the interesting conversation.
Flinders was in the midst of a heated argument. He was fast getting worked up when Mrs. Houser took a cooling drink from the drinking fountain.
The time wasted in taking the refreshing water caused Flinders to sort of revolve and finally after several minutes of argument he made his last attempt to settle the differences. It was explained to the woman that the "cat" departed on the first section and that she would depart on the second section. With a thanks, she boarded the train, with her pulse beating just about 300 times slower than it had a few minutes before.
MORAL.—When a woman has the stand don't butt in, just let her say what she has to say. Don't spoil your reserve strength, you might need it later.

STEWART SEES VICTORY AGAIN

Montana Governor on Way to S. F., Says Republicans Likely to Split

Governor Samuel V. Stewart of Montana was an Ogden visitor for a short time today prior to departing for San Francisco. Governor Stewart was accompanied by six Democratic delegates from Montana. The train from Montana, Number 32, was fifteen minutes late in arriving but the west bound train was held by railroad officials in order that the Montana official and his party might make connections.

"I am confident of a Democratic victory again this year," said Governor Stewart, "and I believe that the 'wet' platform will be one of the reasons for the victory. Democrats look for a split in the Republican ranks soon and if the split comes, good night, a victory will be easily won."

SHERIFF HUNTS FOR MOTORIST

Pick Up Clue That May Lead to Identity of Racing Driver

A clue which may lead to the identity of the driver of an automobile who is believed responsible for the overturning of a car containing Mark Allen, his wife and baby, of Logan, and damage to a machine driven by Arthur Jilson of Salt Lake, was obtained by members of the sheriff's office at noon today.

The information obtained by the officers is now being investigated and they hope to determine the driver's name before night.
Many conflicting statements from drivers of both the Allen and Jilson cars, and witnesses of the accident have been told the officers, it was said today. While some are of the opinion that the unknown car struck both the Allen and Jilson machine others say that the third car caused Allen's car to crash into that being driven by Jilson.

An effort is being made today by the officers to get the participants of the accident and the witnesses together in order that the true cause of the accident may be determined.
The accident occurred at 10:30 o'clock Sunday night at the extreme end of the pavement in North Ogden. Allen's car ran into an irrigation ditch and overturned, pinning its occupants beneath. Mr. Allen, his wife and baby were rescued through the loose foot-boards of the machine. Jilson's car was badly damaged as a result of the crash, but all occupants escaped injury. The Allen car is still in the ditch.

PRIMARIES SET FOR TOMORROW

Republicans Will Select Delegates for Judicial Convention Next Saturday

Republican primaries for Weber county will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing delegates to the judicial convention of the second judicial district to be held here Saturday.

At the meeting Saturday, Weber county will have 158 delegates, Davis county 54 and Morgan county 14. The judicial convention will be held at the Weber county court house at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Two candidates for the position of district judge and one candidate for the position of district attorney will be named at the convention.
Among Republicans whose names will probably be presented to the convention for district judge are James N. Kimball, John G. Willis, John Sneddon, John C. Davis and Lieut. Col. James A. Howell former district judge.
A spirited contest is being waged between Joseph E. Evans and Royal J. Douglas for the nomination of district attorney, and much interest is being manifested in the primaries, which are to be held throughout Weber, Davis and Morgan counties Wednesday.

The primaries tomorrow evening will be held in various sections of the city. Primary districts 1 to 11 which constitute the first ward will be held at the city hall.

Districts 12 to 18 will hold their meeting in the Third ward amusement hall and districts 19 to 27 will meet at the Seventh ward amusement hall.

The county court house will see representatives from districts 28 to 41 present. Districts 42 to 54 will assemble at the Fifth ward meeting house.
Arthur Woolley, chairman of the Weber county Republicans today said: "In view of the action of the Democratic judicial convention held last Saturday in rejecting the resolution which proposed the nomination of a non-partisan judge, I have personally appeared in their convention and slinked myself with the Democratic nominees. It is unlikely that any effort will be made to commit the Republican party to the Democratic nominees."

Schemes to Get Expressed Grip, Officers Say; Arrested in Pocatello

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Chadwick left this morning for Pocatello, Idaho, to bring back Edward Ross, wanted here on a grand larceny charge. Ross was arrested yesterday in the Idaho city.

The complainant against Ross is the American Railway Express company. He said at the office here that he had lost the prepaid bill, but would describe the contents of the suitcase.

Following his description of the articles in the grip, it was turned over to him. A few hours later the real owner appeared and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Ross.

DETROIT, June 22.—Independent railroad yardmen's unions will ask the Democratic party during the San Francisco convention to guarantee a modification of the Esch-Cummings law if it is returned to power. William Look, attorney for the striking yardmen declared. A protest also would be made, he said, against what he termed "unwarranted delay" in the decision of the labor board.

Edward J. Gall, treasurer of the Detroit yardmen's association, in a statement today charged that the board's work was being held up by the "big four" brotherhoods, which he said, had threatened to call a strike if the board decided to reinstate their seceding members.

Under the plan, Mr. Marshall said, "a wool grower may ship his wool to a market for wool is re-established, have been looked out at conferences between the growers and the federal reserve board, it was announced today by F. R. Marshall, of Salt Lake City, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association."

Under the plan, Mr. Marshall said, "a wool grower may ship his wool to a market for wool is re-established, have been looked out at conferences between the growers and the federal reserve board, it was announced today by F. R. Marshall, of Salt Lake City, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association."

The federal reserve act authorizes any member bank to accept a draft secured in this manner at the time of acceptance, provided that the draft matures in not more than six months from the time of acceptance. After acceptance such a draft bearing the endorsement of a member bank is eligible for re-discount or purchase by a federal reserve bank provided, that it has a maturity of not more than six months from the date of re-discount, or purchase.

Mr. Marshall said Governor Harding had called attention to the provision of the federal reserve act as to eligibility for discount of paper secured by warehouse receipts.

It was the unanimous opinion of the wool growers, Mr. Marshall said, that the plan suggested was practical and feasible.
